NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

September 20th, 2006

Koolhaus Games Inc. is pleased to announce that we have received partial funding of our original mobile game called “Gold Rush Jack” (working title “Canary Jack”) under Telefilm’s New Media Fund.

This is destined to be a next generation project for mobile games on a variety of handsets and we are excited that Telefilm has also seen our unique vision for this concept.

“Gold Rush Jack” is a fun casual game that takes the player back in time to the Gold Rush days. The player can play this game for ten or fifteen minutes while waiting for a bus, train, taxi or plane or play longer in the multi player mode.

Humorous anecdotes from the west coast gold rush days are included to keep you thoroughly entertained while playing through the game.

Telefilm funding was provided for production and the project will be completed in Q2, 2007.
